Subject: National Injectable Fee Schedule

Dear Dr. <<Last Name>>:

Based on feedback from health care professionals, and in an effort to adopt industry standards, CIGNA is implementing Average Sales Price (ASP) methodology for injectable drugs on the National Injectable Fee Schedule, effective April 20, 2011. A sample of injectable drugs and new reimbursement rates are listed in the table below. At this time, there is no change to the way immunizations are reimbursed.

HCPCS Code	Description	Current Reimbursement	Reimbursement as of April 20, 2011	Change

J0885	Procrit	$10.75	$9.67	($1.08)
J1745	Remicade	$69.34	$60.58	($8.76)
J2405	Zofran	$1.40	$1.40	-

J9355	Herceptin	$69.20	$69.65	$0.45

Note: The reimbursements are subject to change. This list is not all-inclusive of injectable drugs.

Please continue to bill office administered injectables to CIGNA using the CMS 1500 and appropriate Healthcare Common Procedure Coding System (HCPCS) codes. In accordance with HCPCS procedures, the number of administered units should be noted on claims.

CIGNA will continue to update the National Injectable Fee Schedule on a quarterly basis. The current reimbursement rates are available on the secure CIGNA for Health Care Professionals website (www.cignaforhcp.com > Resources > CIGNA Reimbursement Policies and Payment Policies > Injectables and Oncology Agents). The new reimbursements will be available by March 1, 2011. If you are not currently a registered user, you will need to complete the registration process to log on to the website. Go to www.cignaforhcp.com and click on 'Register Now', located in the left side bar.

If you need more information, or if you do not have Internet access, please call the CIGNA Customer Service Center at 1.800.88CIGNA (882.4462).
